Chicago, Oct. 19.-For the third time since their commencement the jubilee festivities were shifted to the interior of the Auditorium, and the third and last scene to be enacted within the great hall was the most brillant, beautiful and successful rank of marine and which he desires to have of them all. It was the great national jeace jubilee banquet, tendered to the president of the United States and distinguished guests by the citizens of Chycago. No similar event ever held within the Auditorium surpassed in briliancy and his address being greated with great apsimple elegance the banquet of tonight.

Twelve hundred guesta, among them men promisent is all branches of business, science, art, men of brilliant records upon the sea and men famed for deeds of arms done on shore, were standing by their chairs when a tap from the gavel of Franklin MacVeigh, the presiding officer, announced the approach of President Mc-Kinley. The orchestra struck up "Hail to the Chief," and as the strains of the old velcoming march were heard the president, attended by the jubilee reception committee, came down the center aisle, bowing right and left in acknowledgment of the applause his presence evoked. He was escorted to his seat at the wesend of the hall and as he took his seat the 1.200 guests followed his example,, only to se an instant later, while Dr. Frank Crane delivered a short and elequent tovocation.
